what's NOW! GIVING BACK

Don't let a downpour rain on your parade! Pop open this cute heart-shaped umbrella. Twenty percent of sales will benefit the National Breast Cancer Foundation.

Umbrella, Unique Vintage, $36; unique-vintage.com.

PRETTY Powerful

Looking for an excuse to drop some dough in October? Every one of these feel-good finds supports the fight against breast cancer. So go ahead—shop it forward!

Give your lingerie drawer a little love with this super-comfortable soft-cup lacey bra. It's a no-brainer, as 20 percent of the purchase will benefit Bra-ha-ha, a fundraising event that promotes breast-health awareness.

Polyamide-polyester bra, Cosabella, $74; shop.cosabella.com.

With its leather trim and handy rear rack, this sleek cruiser looks even better in October: if you buy it then, you can add a bright pink decal to the frame. Ride with pride knowing that $100 from your purchase will go to the Cure Breast Cancer Foundation.

Langdon Bike, Pure City Cycles, starting at $399; purecitycycles.com.

The babu-wood petals change from ivory to blush as they absorb the pink oil.

A cedar rose-scented diffuser will leave your room smelling as fresh as real blooms—except it will last way longer (four to six months). Thirty-five percent of sales will support the BCRF.

PetiteEssence Diffuser, Agraria, $50; agrariahome.com.

On your next GHD, surprise each of your best buds with a gloss from this special-edition set of rosy shades that flatter a wide range of skin tones. The BCRF will receive $12 from each sale.

Bobbi Brown's Pretty Pink Ribbon Lip Gloss Collection, $60; set of 4; bobbirowncosmetics.com.

Pick up a pack of these cheerful handpainted note cards and 20 percent of proceeds will go to the Breast Cancer Research Foundation (BCRF). They're the perfect reason to say "thinking of you."

Stationery, Bell'Invito, $52/set of 12; bellinvito.com.
